THE NEW TRANSACTIONAL AND LITIGATION PARADIGM

2012 RETAIL - REAL ESTATE SEMINAR

Hosted by ALFA International's
RETAIL-REAL ESTATE PRACTICE GROUP

June 6 - 8, 2012
The Ritz-Carlton, Palm Beach
Manalapan, Florida

“TEAMWORK FOR TOMORROW: LEGAL STRATEGIES FOR SUCCESS”

The landscape of the lawyer-client relationship is changing. By virtue of in-house legal department consolidation, budget constraints and the need for outside counsel to understand and work seamlessly toward client objectives which have sometimes collided with traditional law firm approaches to furnishing legal services, a new paradigm is emerging. A paradigm where outside counsel must shift the manner in which it delivers and charges for the provision of legal services. This new paradigm will affect many of the transactional and litigation projects assigned to outside counsel.

ALFA International is proud to present its eighth Retail-Real Estate Practice Group Seminar, Teamwork for Tomorrow: Legal Strategies for Success. At this seminar, representatives from business and industry and their legal partners will explore the challenging issues in real estate and recent trends which are currently enhancing risk, as well as address the most recent discussion topics, whether in the “C-Suite,” the General Counsel’s office, or the leadership of a law firm.

ALL ABOUT PALM BEACH:

Once a nearly uninhabitable swampland, Palm Beach became a tourist destination at the turn of the 20th century under the influence of Henry Morrison Flagler, an oil and railroad tycoon. Flagler built several resorts on the island of Palm Beach, and expanded his railroad system to connect the area to the rest of the country, making Palm Beach “America’s First Resort Destination.” Today, The Ritz-Carlton offers guests a picturesque playground where sun-seekers, polo fans, watersport enthusiasts, shoppers and those just wanting to relax, can gather to indulge in the beauty of Palm Beach. The resort offers 7 acres of lush tropical gardens, an exclusive beach on the Atlantic Coast, 2 outdoor pools, and provides plush accommodations and exceptional customer service that will make your experience truly memorable. It is located just 8 miles south of Palm Beach International Airport (PBI). Ground transportation is available at the airport in the form of taxi, private sedan, or shuttle bus.

CORPORATE COMPLIANCE, INTERNAL INVESTIGATIONS AND
THE EXPLOSION OF QUI-TAM

This panel will explore the opportunities and challenges presented to a company faced with an employee-whistleblower making allegations of misconduct by other employees or management that could expose the company to criminal and civil liability. We will analyze the pros and cons of initiating an internal corporate investigation, the ways in which such an investigation should be conducted, who should conduct the investigation, potential ethical issues involved in conducting such an investigation, whether and how to prepare a final investigative written report for the company's management and board, and what to do with a written report if one is prepared. The panel will pay particular attention to issues relating to media publicity, government investigations if the whistleblower chooses to disclose information to the government, legal representation of company personnel during the course of the internal and government investigations, and how to handle potential qui-tam actions by the whistleblower and government if the company is involved in a business receiving government funds.

She advises law firms on Legal Project Management, alternative fee arrangements, the counsel selection process, and responding to RFPs. Earlier, Ms. Woldow held positions as the Chief Counsel of the Pennsylvania Department of Insurance and later served as Pennsylvania's Deputy General Counsel. She has served as General Counsel of a diversified consumer services corporation. Her law firm background includes complex commercial and environmental litigation with large US firms. Pam's At The Intersection blog was named to the Blawg 100 by the American Bar Association, and she speaks frequently on trends in the legal marketplace. She has been designated a Certified Master Coach by the Behavioral Coaching Institute and is a member of the International Coaching Counsel. In addition, she is a Fellow in the College of Law Practice Management. Pam received her B.A. from Temple University and her J.D. with honors from the Chicago-Kent College of Law, where she was on Law Review. She is admitted to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court, the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals, and the Pennsylvania and New Jersey courts.
